INTERNATIONAL PAVILIONS

XPONENTIAL is the most important event for unmanned systems professionals and is the most effective platform to spotlight the technological innovations and industry advancements from your country.

If you're looking for an opportunity to drive more unmanned systems business to your country, participate in the XPONENTIAL International Pavilion and show off your region's new and emerging companies, strategic partners and network of resources.

NEW! XPONENTIAL 2021 will feature an in-person and virtual experience.

"An International Pavilion is a valuable opportunity for our companies to come to XPONENTIAL. They have access to a great location and a common communication coverage they could not afford alone. AUVSI also fosters communicating between the Pavilions, which is a great asset in a networking event."
